Palm Bluetooth™ Card.

Communicate. Collaborate. Connect. Wirelessly.

Go wireless using a Palm Bluetooth Card. Small and light, take it with you and join the next wave of wireless communication.

Works with Ericsson and other leading Bluetooth-enabled phones and devices.

Wait no longer. The next wave of wireless technology is here. Simply slip a Palm Bluetooth™ Card into any Palm™ handheld with a Palm Expansion Card Slot. Connect wirelessly to mobile phones, laptops, printers, and other Bluetooth-enabled devices—without cables, wires, or cords of any kind.

Based on the Bluetooth wireless standard, Palm's Bluetooth Card opens up a new way of communicating wirelessly between a Palm handheld and a Bluetooth-enabled mobile phone, laptop, or printer.

What can you do with a Palm Bluetooth Card? Plenty! Instantly send and receive email using a Bluetooth GSM-enabled phone. Use web clipping applications. Browse the web for information or send SMS messages. Print and edit documents straight from your Palm handheld.[1] And much, much more. Wirelessly.

The Bluetooth wireless technology revolutionizes personal connectivity and propels you into a new dimension in wireless communications. Many of the world's leading companies are developing products with Bluetooth wireless technology, including Ericsson, IBM, 3Com, Intel, Lucent, Microsoft, Motorola, Nokia, and Toshiba.
